SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

Catholic Studies

CS 580* Patristic Exegesis (2) Johnson T, Th [5/24-6/23] 7:00pm-9:40pm
This course in Patristic exegesis will examine the traditions of Biblical interpretation in the early Church. Special attention will be paid to the predominant approach to the Scriptures in early Christianity: figurative reading in both Western (Latin) and Eastern (Greek, Syriac) traditions. Since the greatest proportion of exegetical literature in the early Church was homiletic, this course will also entail an examination of traditions of preaching. Also to be examined are the Bible's use in early Christian liturgy, art, poetry, hagiography, and ascetical literature.

Pastoral and Professional Studies

LPC 222 Tribunal Training Course (2) Hobbs S [5/21-7/23] 9:30am-12:10pm
In this course, the participant will be guided through the Church's law and practice relative to marriage cases so that after satisfactorily completing the course and successfully completing an internship, the student might be certified as a procurator/advocate for the Tribunal, able effectively to assist those seeking help with marriage cases at the parish level.

Systematic Theology

S 569 Immanence Apologetics (2) Jamison M, W [5/23-6/22] 7:00pm-9:40pm
Apologetics as a Christian discipline is the intellectual endeavor to defend the Christian faith. It explains the believability of the deposit of faith and morals, which can be judged either by reason alone or by reason informed by faith. Immanence apologetics relates the deposit of faith and morals to the common human predicament and our felt needs for perfective goods and supernatural deliverance. This experiential approach to apologetics can be found in the writings of Walker Percy. Our focus will be on his semiotic essays and existentialist novels which continue to be instrumental in the calling many modern castaways into the Catholic Church.

S 580* Patristic Exegesis (2) Johnson T, Th [5/24-6/23] 7:00pm-9:40pm
